Location: Secret

Business Type: Military Contractor

Project: Tank Optics – Live and Recorded Target Sighting for Exercise Evaluation

In an unusual application for our video technology, we supplied product and support to the UK's largest research and technology company who were contracted to develop training evaluation aids for the Ministry of Defence.

As a result some Challenger Tanks were fitted with Axis IP cameras in protective housings, mounted in-line with the gun barrel, recording images to an internally mounted Digital Video Recorder (DVR) whilst relaying 'live' video to ground based training Cadre.
